The screenshot displays a Microsoft Project Gantt chart titled "Required Approval". The chart is organized into five main phases: Initial Assessment, Data Collection, Analysis, Report Generation, and Review. Under each phase, there are two tasks assigned to "Heiny, Michelle" and "Fryer, Michelle". Each task is represented by a horizontal bar showing its duration and progress. The bars are color-coded in shades of purple, yellow, and green. The "Initial Assessment" phase contains one task for each user. The "Data Collection" phase contains two tasks for each user. The "Analysis" phase contains one task for each user. The "Report Generation" phase contains one task for each user. The "Review" phase contains one task for each user. The chart also includes a legend at the bottom left and various project management tools like "New Task", "Copy", and "Delete" buttons.
